Mr. Charles A. Horsky Handwritten: Park
Special Assistant to the President for National Capital Affairs
The White House

Dear Mr. Horsky:

It was a pleasure to hear your talk at the meeting of the Executive Officers in the Bureau of the Budget on Wednesday afternoon, 20 March. I was very interested in your description of your role as Special Assistant to the President for National Capital Affairs. Naturally, during the recent relocation of this Agency from downtown Washington to the Virginia suburbs, we were considerably involved in many of the questions with which you are concerned. I have always felt that Federal agencies with large numbers of employees in the metropolitan area have an obligation to work with the municipalities on problems which affect the welfare of the Federal employee.

I was very tempted, during the session last Wednesday, to raise a question concerning the problem of crime in the Washington area which is increasingly affecting the welfare of our employees and having a distinct drag on our recruiting program. I know that this is a very difficult and complex problem, but I would be very interested in your thoughts as to the responsibilities of the Federal agencies.

It occurred to me that you might be interested in coming out to our headquarters building in Langley and meeting some of our senior officers to discuss matters of mutual interest. We would enjoy showing you our building and telling you about some of our activities.

Sincerely yours,
